1. About mid-April 1948, a cavalry unit from the Mongolian People's Republic (MPR) arrived in Wangyehmiao (122-01, 46-05). There were about 400 men in the unit commanded by a Colonel Baasr. They were guided to Wangyehmiao by Inner Mongolian troops and they came from the direction of Aershan (120-17, 47-12). The unit was well received by important government and military leaders in Wangyehmiao. After a few days, the MPR troops left to return to the MPR.

Comment. The presence of this cavalry unit in the Wangyehmiao area may explain previous reports on MPR and Soviet soldiers attacking and disarming Chinese Communist troops in the area.)

2. In the latter part of July, two instructors from the MPR arrived at the Military Staff Officers School [REDACTED] in Wangyeimiao. These men are Captain Damba, a specialist in war tactics, and 1st Lieutenant Temur, an artillery specialist.

3. On 1 August 1948, six cadets from the School left Wangyezhiao for further studies at the MPR Military University at Ulan Bator. These cadets were selected from the advanced class and were led by 1st Lieutenant Serjiwachir.

Comment. These acts are designed to show the Chinese Communists that the MPR is sympathetic toward the Inner Mongolians. It is possible that the former officials of IMAG now in MPR were responsible for this interest.)

(█████████ Comment. By "former IMAG officials" source undoubtedly refers to Asgan and his associates - see ██████████, paragraphs 2 and 3. ██████████
